

Urban Ecology Trail

Trail stop 7 – Millshott Close

Welcome to the famous Millshott Close turtles!

This former patch of grass was unfortunately used for fly tipping until local residents came up with the idea of turning it into a fun eco-landscaped play space in 2015!

Now, featured in many an Instagram photo, the space is a positive focal point for the community and passers-by alike.

The turtles are soon to receive a new outer coating of recycled plastic mulch to freshen up the play space and mean it will remain a popular area for years to come.
