Trail stop 6 – Rainville Court

Welcome to Rainville Court estate, on the beautiful river Thames Path.

Rainville Court is a mixed landlord estate, comprising both council housing and Notting Hill Genesis properties. The project you're looking at is the recently completed community growing garden in the former sunken ball court.

The project was the idea of members of the Rainville Estate Forum who came together to transform a disused ballcourt into a space the whole community can enjoy. It features generous raised growing bed, play features for children and a community mural.

The Thames Path is a 184-mile (294-kilometer) trail that runs from the source of the river in the Cotswolds all the way out to Greenwich.
